

Literature at the Houston-area Holocaust survivor Bill Morgan calls Holocaust Museum Houston the “House of Love” because he says it was built to teach about loving each other instead of hating each other.

Come to the Museum for a special professional development workshop on Feb. 9, 2010 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. This workshop will focus on school-age appropriate literature for grades 3 through 12, to include how to incorporate the use of literature in all classrooms for all development levels. All participants will leave with classroom-use materials and new ideas on teaching about the Holocaust and other genocides.

ELA TEKS addressed will have as their primary focus:

- Reading/Comprehension of Literary Text,
- Reading/Comprehension of Informational Text/Culture and History and
- Reading/Media Literacy.

Social Studies TEKS addressed will include:

- World History (18): identify examples of political, economic and social oppression and violations of human rights throughout history, including slavery, the Holocaust, other examples of genocide and politically motivated mass murders in Cambodia, China and the Soviet Union
- US History (6): analyze major issues and events of World War II, such as fighting the war on multiple fronts, the internment of Japanese-Americans, the Holocaust, the battle of Midway, the invasion of Normandy and the development of Harry Truman's decision to use the atomic bomb
- Social Studies Skills (varies)

This one-day event has a non-refundable workshop fee of $15 per teacher. Lunch is not provided.

Please register online by Feb. 1, 2010 at www.hmh.org/RegisterEvent.aspx.

STOP HATE. STARTING HERE.

Morgan Family Center
5401 Caroline St. • Houston, TX 77004
713-942-8000 • Free Admission Always
Mon. – Fri. 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. • Sat. & Sun. Noon – 5 p.m.

www.hmh.org